

W THE
OVEN TALE PRESS

W^{THE}OVEN TALE PRESS

cover art by Danielle Eubank

VOL. XI #1

"Each of my paintings is an abstract, formal portrait of a specific piece of water.

In my work, I am looking for the tipping point between the conceptual and visible, to create an emotive response in the viewer. I consider the forms created by water ripples, oil slicks, or refuse a foundation for deconstruction. I create patterns within patterns, representing vertical stacks of rhythms in the physical matter I paint. By studying water's cultural history, environmental necessity and its aesthetic qualities, the captivation is endless. And the health of our oceans is paramount to the health of all species; I want people to observe and think about water. If they think about water, they will feel more passionate about protecting it."

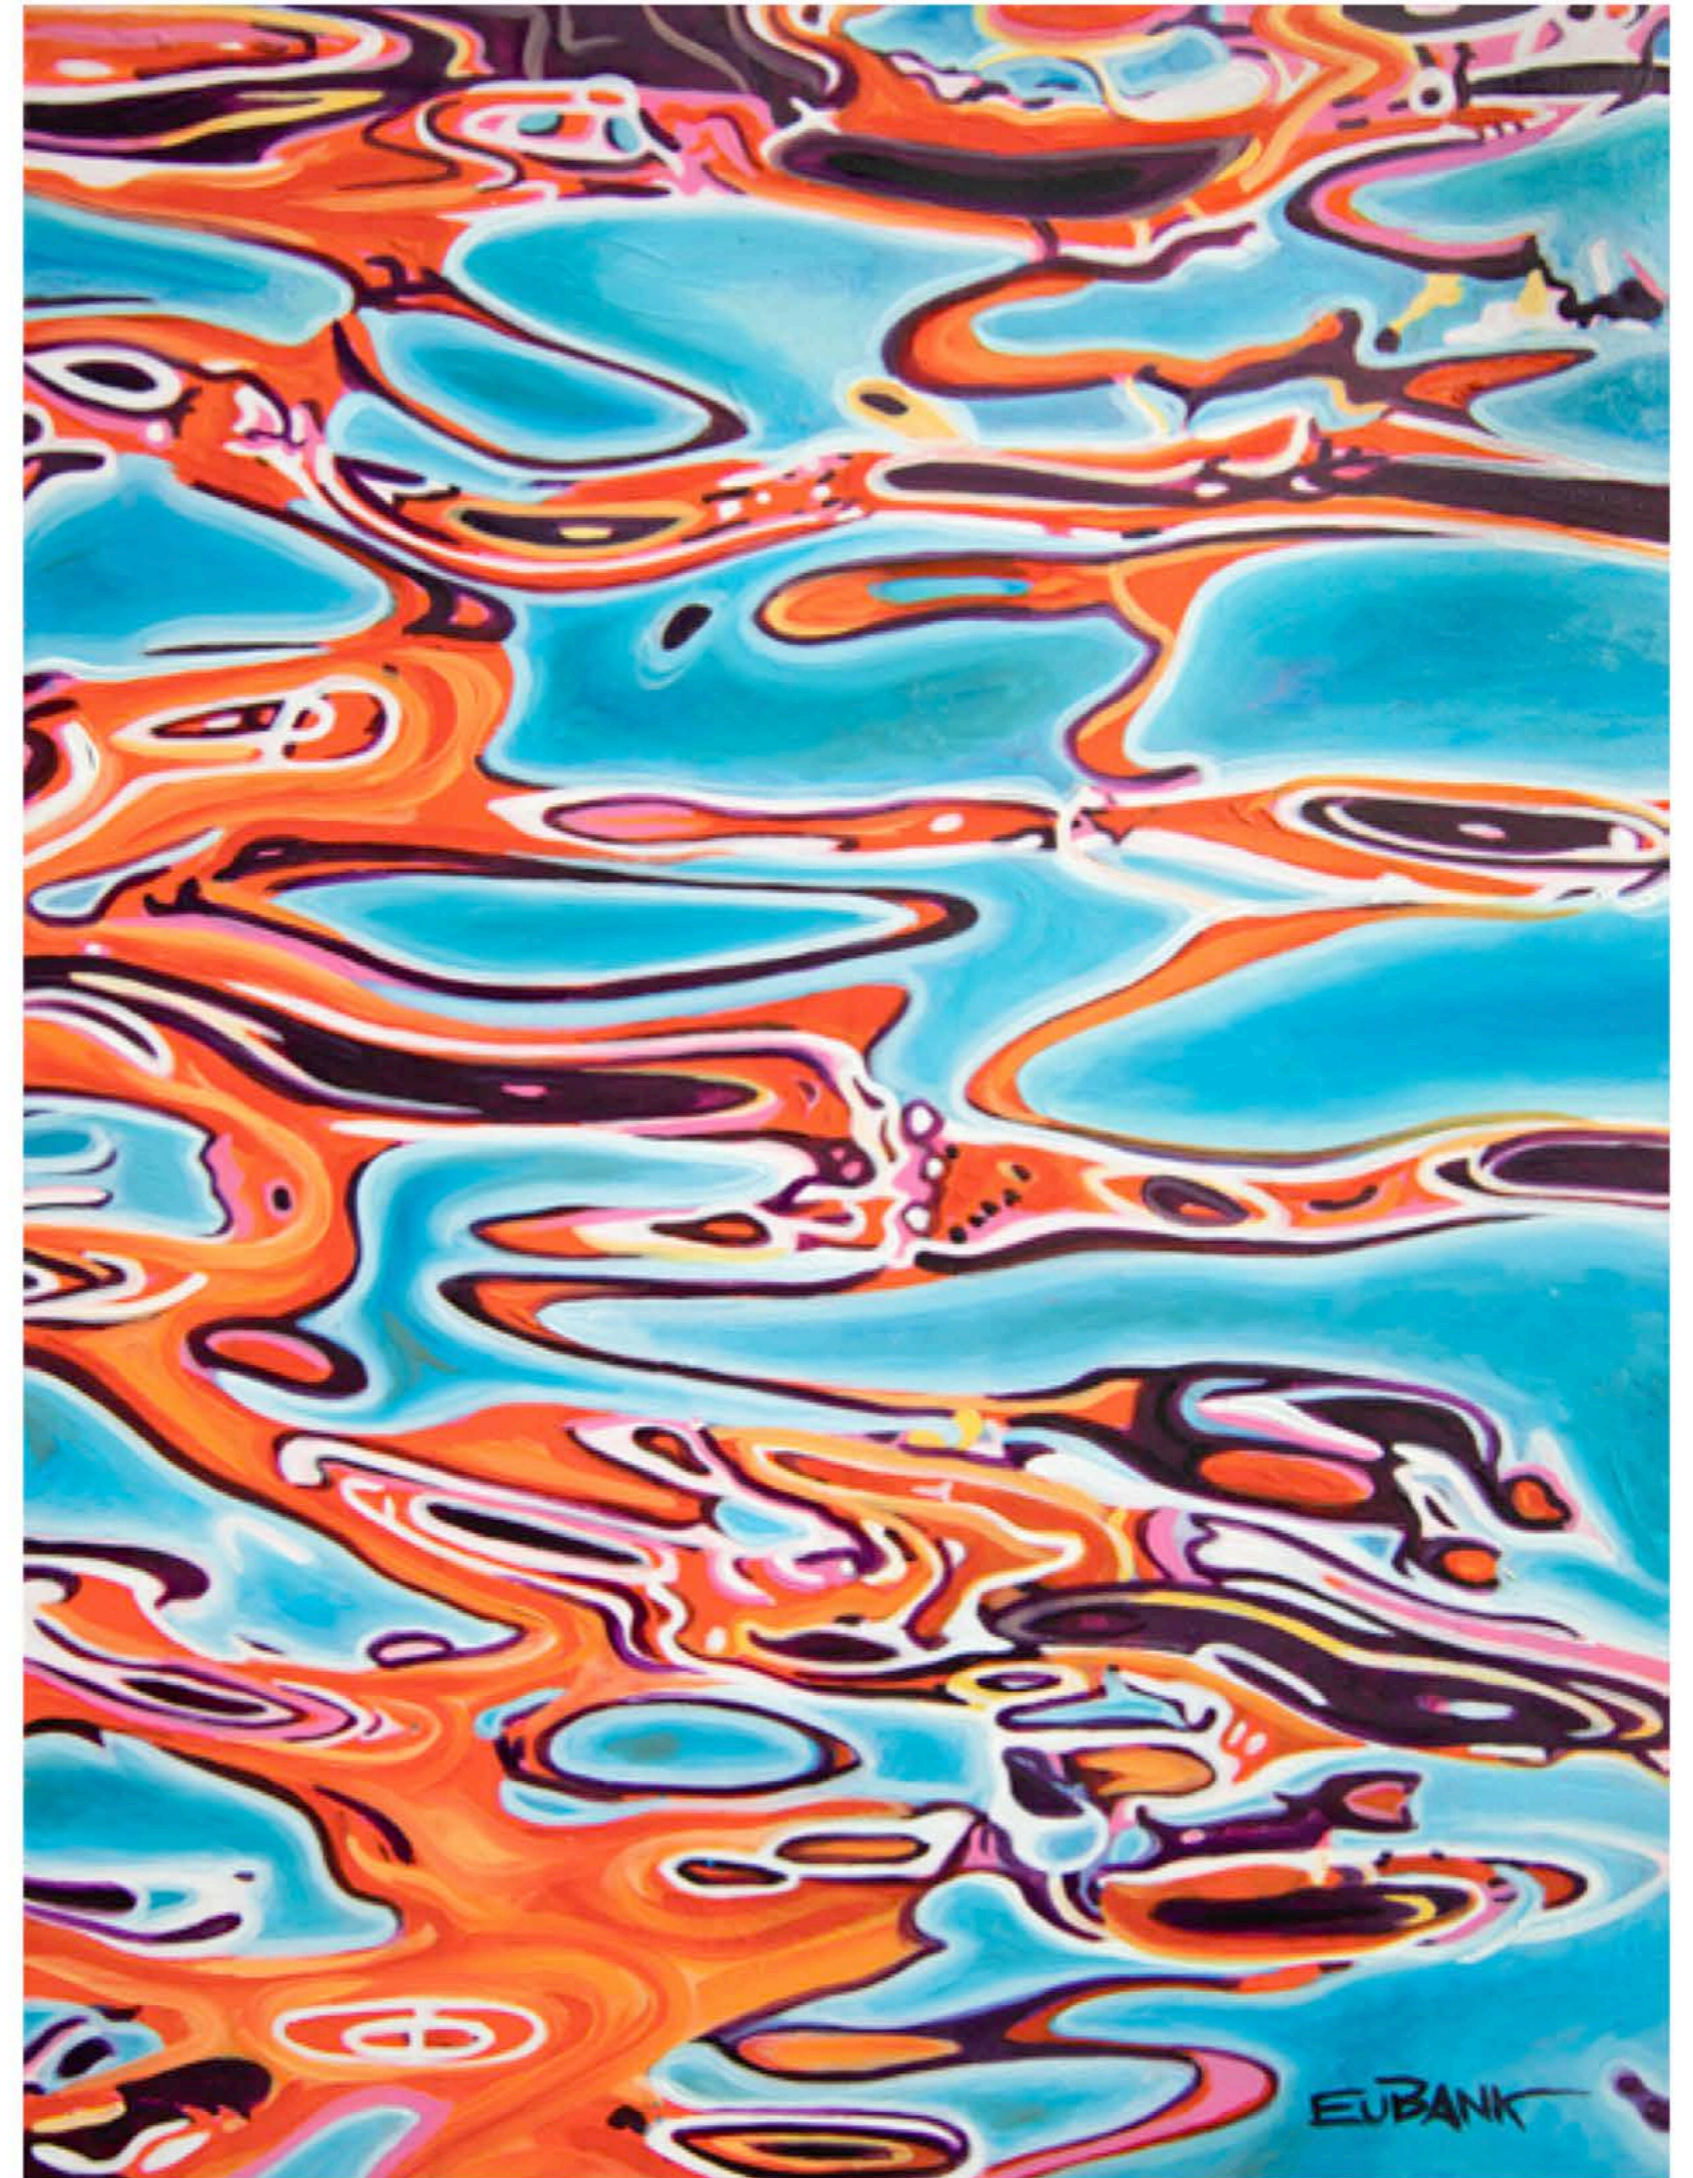

Arctic X
oil on linen 42" x 60"

Arctic IV
oil on panel
5" x 5"

Ny Alesund III
oil on linen
28" x 40"

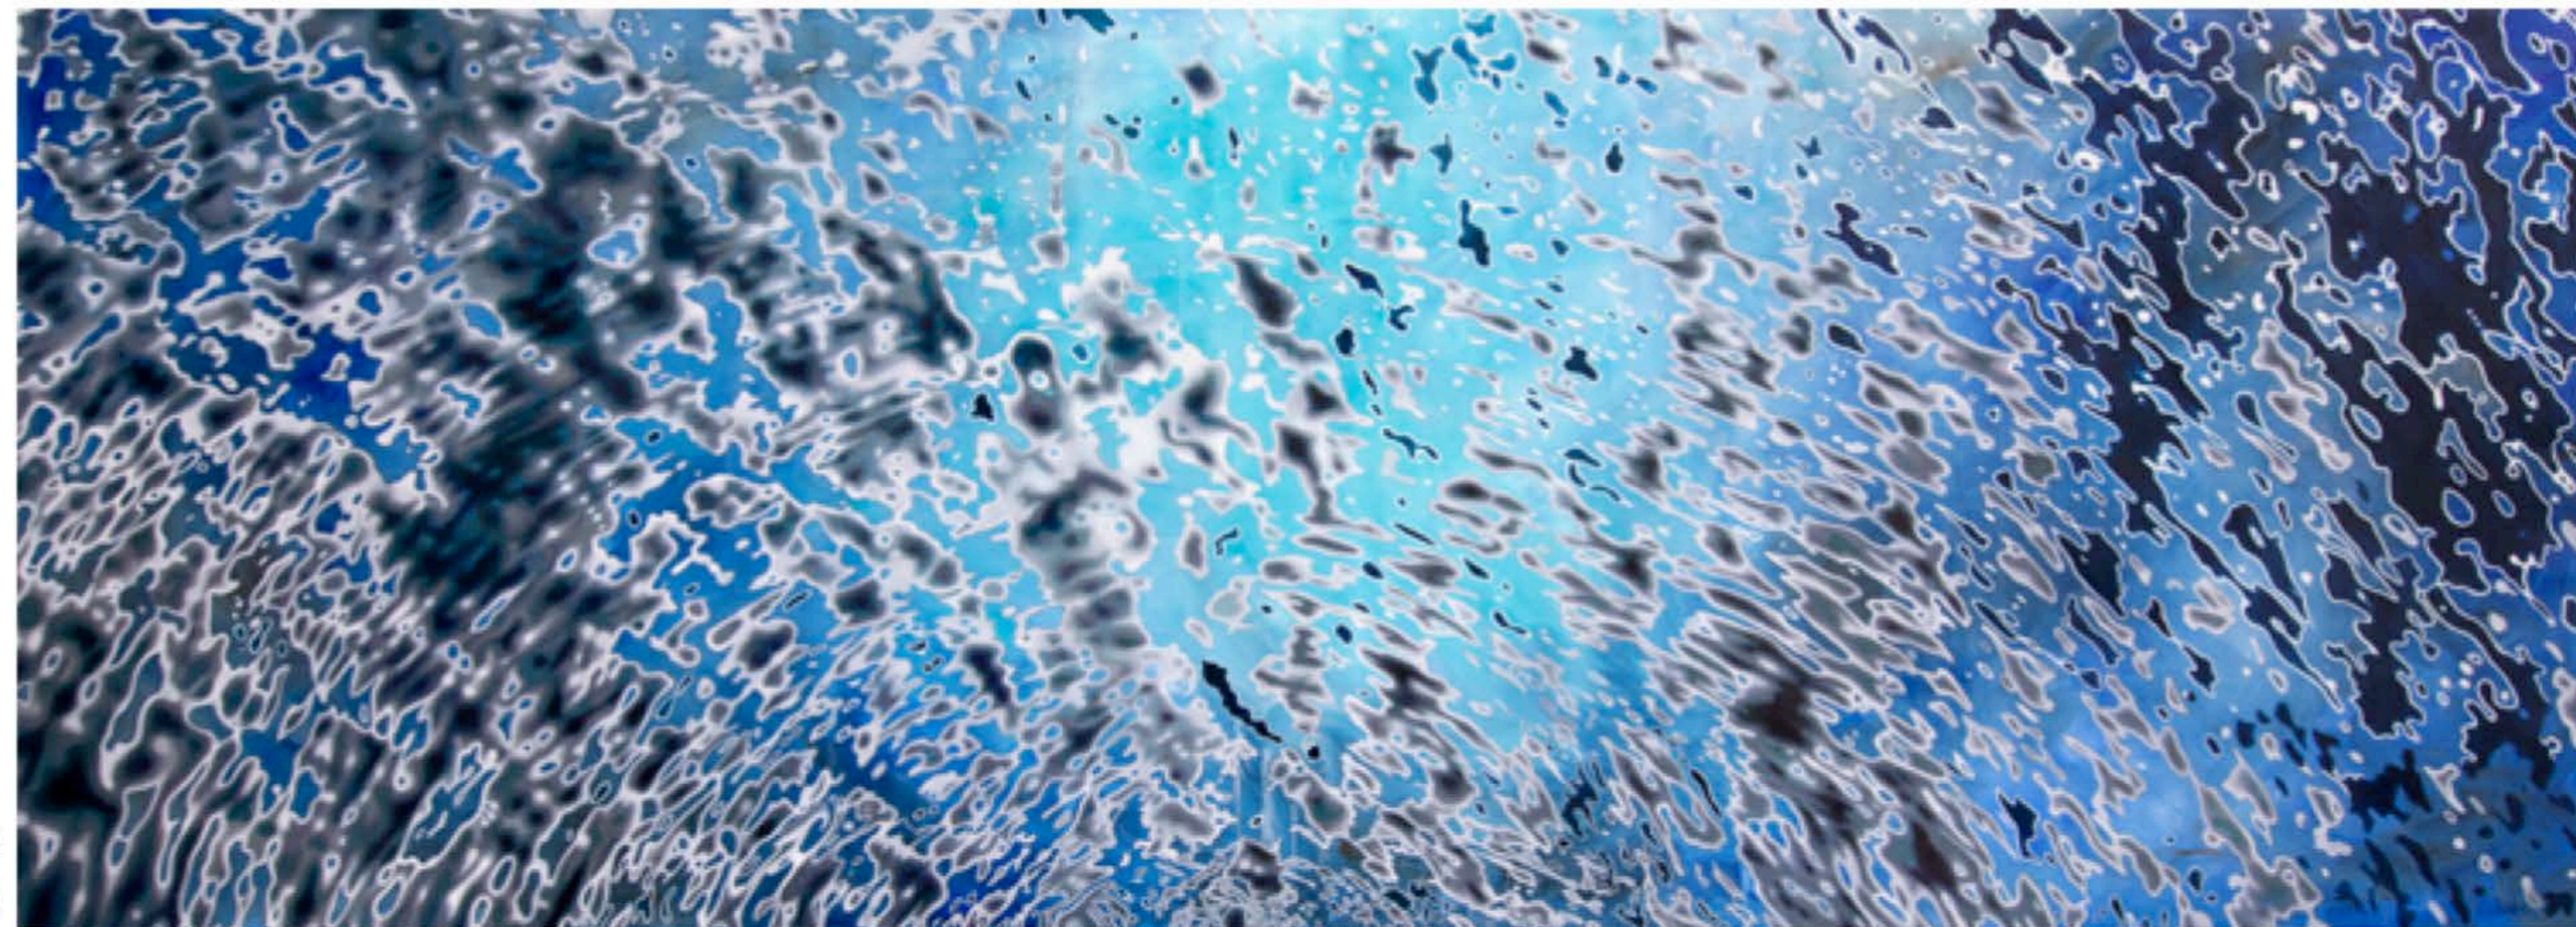

Isle of Mull III
oil on board
12" x 9"

Southern Ocean XIII
oil on linen
42" x 60"

For this One Artist Five Oceans project, Eubank sailed and painted the waters of every ocean on Earth to raise climate awareness. Her decades-long quest began as an expedition artist with the UNESCO-approved Borobudur Ship, a replica 8th-century Indonesian boat that crossed the Indian Ocean; continued with the Phoenicia Ship, a replica 600 BCE ship that circumnavigated Africa. She also sailed aboard The Antigua, a barkentine tall ship, to the High Arctic, and her fifth and final destination was with an expedition to the Southern Ocean. Eubank is a recipient of the Pollock-Krasner Foundation Grant; a 2018 Creative Climate Award nominee; and the 2019 awardee of the WCA/United Nations Program Honor Roll Award. In Los Angeles, she works to facilitate many public conversations about water and climate issues. A film documentary her work, Mozambique VI, premiered at the Newport Beach Film Festival.

Southern Ocean XIX
oil on linen
4" 2x 116"